DETAILED ACTION

The Request for Continued Examination filed 12/15/2006 has been entered into the record. Claims 1-9, 16-17 and 19-21 have been cancelled. Claims 10, 12, 14 and 18 have been amended. Claims 10-15 and 18 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 10-11, 14-15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 10 and 18 recite the terms lipid metabolism disorder and metabolic syndrome. It is not clear what all are encompassed by the said terms. The specification does not provide a clear definition either.

Claim 14 recites the terms arteriosclerotic manifestations. It is not clear what all are encompassed by the said terms. The specification does not provide a clear definition either.

Claims that depend from rejected base claims that are unclear/indefinite are also rendered unclear/indefinite and are rejected for the same reasons.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1623

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10-15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Frick et al (US 6221897) in combination with Castaner (Drugs of the Future, 2000, 25(7), 679-685).

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Fricke et al disclose benzothiepine 1,1-dioxide derivatives of formula I in which R¹ is butyl, ethyl; R² is OH; R³ is a saccharide residue; R⁴ and R⁵ are methyl and Z is – (C=O)-C0-C6-alkyl-NH- and compositions comprising these compounds (see col. 1, line 34 through col. 2, line 28; col. 23-25).

Fricke et al also teach the use of compounds of formula (I) and their derivatives in a method for the prophylaxis or treatment of hyperlipidemia, arteriosclerotic symptoms and lipid metabolism disorder (see cols. 23-26). However, Fricke et al do not teach a composition comprising the compound of formula (I) and a cholesterol absorption inhibitor chosen from ezetimibe or carbob pulp as the other active ingredient.

Castaner, drawn to hypolipidemic cholesterol absorption inhibitor, teach that ezetimibe is a potent cholesterol absorption inhibitor. It is very potent in inhibiting increases in plasma cholesterol (page 682, right column, line 10 through page 683, left column, line 13; page 684, right column, see paragraph starting under subtitle-Clinical Studies).

Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art would have reasonably expected that combining the composition of Fricke et al and the composition of Castaner et al both known to be useful for the same purpose, would improve the therapeutic effects for treating the same diseases, and/or would produce additive therapeutic effects in treating the same.

It has been held that it is prima facie obvious to combine two compositions each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose in order to form a third composition that is to be used for the very same purpose. The idea of combining them flows logically from their having been taught individually in the prior art. See In re Kerkhoven, 205 USPQ 1069, CCPA 1980.

Thus the claimed invention as a whole is clearly prima facie obvious over the combined teachings of the prior art.

Conclusion

Claims 10-15 and 18 are rejected
